

Prophecy - Bath of Bethesda

26 April 2008

---

"I'm stirring the waters for your pool tonight,
so that you can step in and realise
the power of the Christ.

There will be great power, there will be great might
and out of darkness and obscurity, you will see the Light.
It may be that for days and years and months it's been hidden from you,
but in this night it's breaking through.

Flashes of glory will step right down deep into your heart and all around you, flashes of Light will make you know that you are smart.

I have chosen you, you have not chosen Me
and fruit you will bear, because the Spirit is right on the inside of you.

At the stirring of the water for you in this night, realise that out of darkness and obscurity will shine the Light.

Desires and prayers that have been lying on the shelf,

All of a sudden will be a reality

and you will say This is too good to be true!

Maybe you'll think you'll be dreaming,

but this will be true.

Visions of the night - dreams will come.

Awakened by the Spirit, truly you will be

and then you will remember all the promises that come from Me.

And you will see it not in the far distance anymore -
for right now, I'm throwing away the key and I'm breaking open the door.

And you will just see as it's beginning to rain,
there'll be more and more and more."
