

Prophecy

17 FEBRUARY 2009

Lets step into our inheritance
Understanding the full essence and the substance
Of glory in His face
Where you can come and take your rightful place
Where you will not stand in a queue far behind
But you will understand, Christ came to make you part of God's kind
Where you will speak with such power
Don't postpone - this is that final hour
Where Christ will be revealed
It will not be something in a corner
Something somewhere concealed
It's open, right in the air
God says 'I'm no respecter; I'm very fair'
What I do for one, I will do for all
But it's for everyone that will hold the confession
And in My face make the call
You will understand that towards you I'm stretching out My hand
To take you to this rightful place
Where you can see the glory coming from My face
And as you see this glory, you will understand it's all by grace
You will say 'My goodness, can I be a partaker of the divine?'
God says 'Yes, come on in Take your inheritance and say This is mine!'
I made you joint-heir, daughter
I made you joint-heir, son
2000 years ago, this work has begun
Now somebody needs to take the stand
And understand that I'm going to move all across the land
It's for you I've paid the price
Now understand, you've got to grow into Christ's size
That's why the Word says 'My dear children, for who I am in travail till Christ be formed in you'
So that you will understand that it's now time the greater works to do
Don't postpone for another day
Understand there's already a new and living way
It's made open for you by the blood
Can you not look at the Throne and see the holy flood
A flood of a river of revival coming with force

For you, for you, and for you!
It's the supernatural to do, and do, and do!
You can live the Christ life, right here, right now
All you have to do is in your spirit bow
In worshipful attitude, receive the price that has been paid
The foundation, the rejected stone, has already been laid
So be part of this great house
My temple, that is you, YOU ARE
So rise up, take your rightful place
Right in My glorious face
Glory is yours, already invested on the inside of you
Don't you know? the greater works are for you to do
So rise up, dear children, and take your place
It's time to understand - it's all through faith, by His grace
