

PROPHECY

07 November 2010

Right above your heads, there's a sound of the holy dove
God says, I'm filling and blessing you with My holy love
The children of the world rise up and go out and sit down to play
But My people stand in My presence to hear what I have to say
And as My glory and holiness you do sing
Surely My presence into your midst I do bring
And the thing that you're waiting for is so near
You will understand the calling of My voice
It'll be so loud and it'll be so clear
No disturbance in the air
Because then it would not be fair
But what I say will be clear and you will understand the sound
You have said My mercy is there, My grace to sinners does abound
But now for My children, there's a glory so much more
You can look to the past, but I call out now "RESTORE"
And what I bring into your midst
What you've heard before, will be just much, much more
So realise in this day, My son
Realise in this day, My daughter
From My throne and from My Son
Comes a river of living water
It's there to restore and it's there to renew
It's for everybody that can hear, not just a selected few
So in the raising of your hand
I understand in My glory you do stand
So every sickness, every disease, every disturbance must go
For I'm bringing into your life My holy flow
Of the Holy Ghost that will raise you up, up, up, up
And in My presence you will know
That in this flow of the river you will now go
No more hindrances, no more stopping of the divine
Because I've called you by My name
By your name too, so you are Mine

Father, at the calling of this Word we now command every sickness, every disease, every trouble, every anxiety – GO! In Jesus' name. We command a freedom and a release to the people of God as the river of life flows in our midst, as the glory of God touches every person right now - let the glory come, let the glory come, let the glory come..... Every evil thing – GO! In the name of the Christ of God, the Son of the Living God.

Hallelujah, right now the glory of God is filling every life and every mind.
Oh, God's going to change you and you're going to stand up and know that you are of the God-kind
Oh, so don't look around
Don't look to the left and don't look to the right
Because every demon spirit will be put to flight
So child of God, raise your hands on high
Every sickness and demon will from your presence fly
There's a newness coming into your life
Putting end to envy, jealousy and strife
So child of God, this is a new day
Open your heart and hear what the Lord has to say
Glory and honour is yours today
Rise up and shout!
I'm bringing you out!
Hallelujah!
