

Prophecy

26 December 2010

*(...God is so great! I just feel that God is saying...)*

There is a new pathway of God's power
Where everything is going to turn to sweet that has been bitter and sour
God says, you are going to know that I don't only meet your need
But from My word, you know that you can feed
Because there is a glory that will be yours all the time
Can you hear the ringing of the chime?
It's a bell saying, 'It is your hour
For a new pathway of power'

*(...And I just feel that a sweetness is coming to souls – to every single person listening to and reading this prophecy...)*

You know with your spirit, with your body and with your soul
God says, I am going to make you every whit whole
You are going to realise that your body is going to be well
And your spirit is going to soar high
And you don't wait for something to just pass you by
Because this is a continuous thing
That in your life I will bring
And even your soul, your emotions – that's called your soul
Even that, I will bring to perfection and make whole
So shine, be happy!
And realise that God is with you
And no devil can be against you
Every wall of opposition will crumble in this day
Can you hear the sweet words that the Spirit has to say?
God is going to lift you up and lift you high
You are going to soar on wings as eagles in this day
For they that wait upon the Lord will renew their strength
They are going to rise up with wings as eagles
They are going to run and not grow weary
They are going to walk and not grow faint
There is a new pathway of power
God says, everything is going to turn to sweet that has been bitter and sour Hallelujah! Thank You Jesus!

*(...We thank You, Jesus... Oh we thank You, Jesus... Oh we thank You, Lord...)*
