

Prophecy

13 October 2011

I can just hear God say,
I can hear you call
And this golden glory rain must fall
It will be the end of all pain
As you stand under this rain
For it's time to know
That in this glory, in My image you will grow
No more anxiety, stress and fear
Because the river is now here
You can just lift up your hands and receive
Because it all comes to you, because you believe
Have faith in God Most High
And understand the Word is truth, and so is the Spirit
It does not bring a lie
So receive in this night (day)
Knowing that it is not by power neither by might
'It's by My Spirit' saith the Lord of Hosts
And I will bring in your midst, more of My Holy Ghost
So in this day you have to believe
That the rain will fall and miracles, you will receive
Amen!
